

Data-Driven Changemakers Datathon – Jury

Gabriel Ahlfeldt is an Associate Professor in Urban Economics and Land Development at the London School of Economics and Political Science. Prior to joining the Department of Geography and Environment at LSE in October 2009, he earned his PhD in Economics from the University of Hamburg and worked as a research assistant for the Free University of Berlin. Gabriel is the program director of the MSc Real Estate Economics & Finance and contributor to the MSc Regional and Urban Planning Studies. His research concentrates on the effect of large transport projects and architectural developments on housing prices, local political preferences and urban structure.

Chiara Farinea is the Head of European Projects at IAAC and contract professor of Urban Planning at the Faculty of Architecture of Genoa. She obtained the Ph.D. in Urban Planning at IUAV (Venice), the Master in Advanced Architecture at IAAC (Barcelona) and the Architecture University Degree at Politecnico di Milano (Milan).

Regina Loukotová is the Head and founder of the Architectural Institute in Prague (ARCHIP) and is a member of the Education working group in the Czech Chamber of Architects and a member of the Council of Universities. She obtained the Ph.D. in the field of Theory of Architectural Practice at the Oslo School of Architecture and Design, Norway.

Igor Kovačević is the director of the Centre for Central European Architecture (CCEA), a professor at the Architectural Institute in Prague (ARCHIP) and member of the Expert Committee of the European Prize for Urban Public Space since the 2012 edition. He obtained his Ph.D. in Theory of Architecture at Czech Technical University in Prague.

Lucia Štefánková is the Deputy Director for Development and PR at CERGE-EI. She obtained her Ph.D. in Urban Anthropology of Central European Cities at Charles University, Prague, and teaches various courses on urban anthropology. She achieved her MA degree in Cultural Studies and Marketing Communication from Comenius University in Bratislava, Slovakia.

Lucie Stejskalová is an architect, graduated from the Academy of Architecture and Design in Prague. She works in Strategy and Policy Department at Institute of Planning and Development in Prague (IPR). Department recently completed Strategic plan for Prague 2030 - <http://www.iprpraha.cz/>. Lucie focus on strategic planning and urban development, especially on the way urban strategies are implemented. In 2014 she published a book Thinking City: Contemporary Urban Strategies.